

2018 SUMMER INTENSIVE ON COMMUNITY ENGAGED SCHOLARSHIP

June 4-8, 2018 | On the campus of Michigan State University

ATTENTION: EARLY CAREER FACULTY AND ADVANCED GRADUATE STUDENTS

Michigan State University's Office of University Outreach and Engagement is hosting a Summer Intensive that will focus on community engaged research and community engaged teaching and learning, including service-learning and community-based research in classes.

The Summer Intensive is composed of interactive workshops, lunches in disciplinary clusters and with senior community engaged scholars, dialogue with community partners, and time to develop your own community engagement plan for your return to campus.

At the end of four days, you'll come away with:

- Conceptual frameworks and scholarly resources
- Practical partnership, collaboration, and evaluation tools
- Perspectives from community partners
- Career advice from senior community engaged scholars
- Strategies for publishing community engaged scholarship
- Support from a network of interdisciplinary colleagues

Application Deadline:

Friday, April 6, 2018

Applications include the online form, short biography, statement of interest, nomination forms, and release form.

Registration Fee:

$395 for MSU participants

$495 for non-MSU participants

Registration fee includes 4 breakfasts, 4 lunches, 1 reception, and all teaching/learning materials.

ENROLLMENT IS LIMITED TO 20, SO REGISTER SOON.

For more information and registration: engage.msu.edu/summerintensive

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY

University Outreach and Engagement

Dr. Diane M. Doberneck, Associate Director,
MSU's National Collaborative for the Study of University
Engagement: msu.ces.summer.intensive@gmail.com.